CREATE an inclusive community of diverse backgrounds and experiences.

EVOKE a sense of cultural dignity and pride amongst contemporary Nigerian youth.

Orísun Collective is a nonprofit organization committed to cultivating a passion for arts and culture amongst Nigerian youth through educational programs in the creative arts.

#OSICA2016

In July 2016, we held our first annual camp called “Orísun Summer Institute for Creative Arts” also known as #OSICA2016. OSICA is a one-week exploratory immersion program in the creative arts for children ages 14-17 in Lagos, Nigeria. The aim of this camp was to create an inclusive and affirmative space for Nigerian children, who are interested in exploring the creative arts for everyday artistic expression or as a professional career.

TESTIMONIALS

"I would just like to say a big thank you. Thank you for tolerating us and just caring and trying to teach and just being there for us."

-Udo Odibo

"I love the fact that everyone was treated equally and our instructors were standard."

-Jamiu Adejumo

" I'm very proud and happy to be part of the lucky students who participated in Orisun Summer Camp. First of all, I will like to state that I really gained a lot and no knowledge was wasted. Every lecture undertaken was great. I enjoyed being in the midst of friends from other schools as well as mine.

Although the camp was only for one week, the memories of all the lectures and wonderful times shared cannot be erased from my mind. The interactions between the students and coordinators was very profitable and helpful in terms of the advice given to us. The environment was very conducive and perfect to impact knowledge without distractions. We were well-fed and I enjoyed the snacks and food services and the overall treatment was superb.

I really gained a lot and appreciate everyone's effort. I'm very happy about the camp and hope to experience another of its kind next year. "

-Nneka Orji

"It was a memorable period of my life. I met lots of friends and I learnt lots of things from different teachers. The camp was so wonderful and I can't wait until next year to come so that i can be part of it again."

-Chiwendu Enwere

Our program model was simple. We ran a camp for the creative arts (visual, literary, and performing arts) for 5 days. We offered 5 classes: singing, dance, creative writing, acting, and photography. In order to promote local talent, we sourced our teachers locally for all classes except the acting class, which was taught by one of our executive board members-- Jessica Obilom.

25

We had a total of 25 students between the ages of 14-17 years, representing 4 schools in Ikeja, Lagos of varying economic backgrounds. We had students from Agidingbi Senior Grammar School, Temple Secondary School, Oregun High School, and Dansol High School.

$5853

We managed to raise $5853
(approx. N 1 767 000) to execute this program (see expense report in the appendix).

THANK YOU!

Orísun Collective is off to a great start! Our pilot camp was a tremendous success and we are grateful to our sponsors, partners, and supporters for making it happen. We cannot wait to host a bigger and more intensive camp in 2017 and we hope that you will continue to support us as we build a generation of young Nigerians who are passionate about their culture and ready to share it with the world through creative arts.
